

Do Everything

The Biography of Frances Willard

The first biography of Frances Willard to be published in over thirty-five years, Do Everything explores Willard's life, her contributions as a reformer, and her broader legacy as a women's rights activist in the United States. In addition to chronicling Willard's life, historian Christopher H. Evans examines how Willard crafted a distinctive culture of women's leadership, emphasizing the importance of religious faith for understanding Willard's successes as a social reformer. Despite her enormous fame during her lifetime, Evans investigates the reasons why Willard's legacy has been eclipsed by subsequent generations of feminist reformers and assesses her importance for our time.

Features

- Makes extensive use of primary source materials not used by other scholars
- Emphasizes the importance of religious faith for understanding Willard's successes as a social reformer
- Provides a unique window for understanding the role of women in the late nineteenth century
- Highlights Willard's importance to the fields of American religious history, women's history, Gilded Age/Progressive Era studies, and Methodist history

September 2022

Hardcover

9780190914073

408 pages

$39.95 $27.96 (USD) | £25.99 £18.19 (GBP)

THE AUTHOR: Christopher H. Evans

Christopher H. Evans, Professor of the History of Christianity, Boston University

Order online at www.oup.com with promotion code AAFLYG6

Please note that the currency is in UK sterling and US dollars, and the discount is only valid on orders placed on global.oup.com.